Email from Lily White at St. Mary's Primary School 11:47pm:

Hi,

I am the headteacher at St. Mary's Primary School and I am referring a safeguarding concern regarding pupil Amelia Woods (d.o.b. 7/7/12). A member of staff witnessed Amelia's father shout at Amelia's mother in the playground this morning during drop-off. Dad was pointing at mum's chest and then it appeared that he shoved mum against a wall. Mum nearly tripped but managed to remain standing, although the member of staff has said that she can't say for certain that dad pushed her. Amelia was seen shouting "No" and tugged at dad's trousers. Amelia's dad continued to shout close to mum's face and then left mum who was tearful. The member of staff spoke to mum whilst our pastoral manager took Amelia to class, and mum appeared to play down the incident stating that dad "gets like this when he's in one of his moods about money". She said that she needed to leave to get to work and couldn't talk any further.

Amelia did not say anything to our pastoral manager on the way to class. The pastoral manager has checked-in with Amelia again today and Amelia has said "I'm fine" but presented as distracted. Amelia has recently joined our school and we have no other safeguarding concerns. Although we have tried to talk to mum this morning, I am concerned that she made light of the situation and didn't seem to share insight regarding the impact upon Amelia. I am also worried that Amelia said that she was fine but appeared anxious.
